

Second announcement

V International Conference on Atomic and Molecular Pulsed Lasers AMPL–2001 September 10–14, 2001, Akademgorodok, Tomsk

Organized by: Institute of Atmospheric Optics SB RAS, Institute of High-Current Electronics SB RAS, Tomsk State University, Siberian Physical-Technical Institute, Physical Institute RAS, Institute of General Physics RAS.

The deadline for registration and submission of materials is prolonged to April 30 of 2001.

SCIENTIFIC PROGRAM:

Gas and plasma lasers. Metal-vapor lasers. Dye lasers and photoprocesses in complex organic molecules. Physical processes in gas lasers. Laser systems and their applications. Incoherent UV and VUV sources. Laser output conversion. Optoelectronic devices.

The Program of the Conference includes School for young scientists on laser physics.

Working languages are Russian and English.

Abstracts should be submitted before April 30, 2001, in the camera-ready form. Send the abstracts to Prof. G.S. Evtushenko, Institute of Atmospheric Optics, 1 Akademichesky Ave., Tomsk 634055 Russia.

On-line registration is available on web site <http://symp.iao.ru>.

Typing instructions:

Cover page: a) title, b) author(s), with presenting author's name underlined, c) affiliation and full address of author(s).

MS Word document, maximum 200 words (Russian or English), Times New Roman, 12 pt., single space.

The abstracts of all the accepted papers will be published and distributed at the Conference.

The papers will be published in the specialized issues of SPIE Proceedings (2002) and Atmospheric and Oceanic Optics (2001).

Papers for publication in SPIE should be submitted to the Organizing Committee before the beginning of the Conference (the papers should correspond to the SPIE requirements, see on the SPIE web site).

Papers for publication in Atmospheric and Oceanic Optics should be submitted to the Organizing Committee (G.S. Evtushenko) by June 30, 2001. The papers should correspond to the requirements published on <http://iao.ru>.
